

A SMALL GUIDE TO SLOWING DOWN

A little room to think.

Find a patch of afternoon light.
Pull up a chair. Open a book.
Let one good idea lead to another.

Leave the afternoon open.

01 Start with the room

A chair by the window. A little daylight. Somewhere you can stay a while.

02 Keep a pencil nearby

Write down a sentence worth returning to. Follow the thought, not the clock.

You don't need to finish the book to find something worth keeping.

Save a page. Make a note.

Come back whenever you like.